Red Cross To Await Their Instructions

COL. TOMLINSON SCORES EMOTIONALISM

Urging that women should not get too excited and emotional about a war still very much in its infancy, Lieut. Col. D. H. Tomlinson, provincial commissioner of the Red Cross Society, addressed a meeting of the Women's Liberal Club in the Hudson's Bay Store, Calgary recently.

Col. Tomlinson pointed out that there would be plenty of time for knitting and making supplies for hospitals, probably all too much, before this war is over. He was grateful for all offers of assistance. But he explained that as a voluntary auxiliary to the government the Red Cross must wait for instructions before jumping into war work with both feet.

At present the only order is to help British and French Red Cross with supplies, and he officially said he could through authorizing the society to issue supplies to mobilized troops.

Colonel Tomlinson said that all recruits in the army, conscripts and volunteers, are getting more money this time than they did in 1914-15.

"We do not know yet where our mobilized troops are going to be, but there is one thing we do want to avoid and that is giving out what has already been distributed. If we could stop duplication of effort, and waste, I would feel I had not only done something for Calgary and the Alberta Red Cross, but for the Dominion as well."

The commissioner went on to explain that although materials are not available yet, when they are, all goods will be sent in the central office so as to avoid mistakes.

In the last war Canada spent thirty million dollars to money and supplies of that amount the Alberta Red Cross contributed $1,704,672. They are ready to do it again, Colonel Tomlinson said, but waste and duplication should be avoided.

SPORT FLASHES
As October opens, the sportsman becomes a very busy man as the call of the wild beckons him to a few ducks; the voice of Red Barber brings a play-by-play description of the World Series, and in other sectors the thrill of watching a bunch of husky athletes heave, run and punt the penguin.

To the average Mr. Citizen, the sportsman of the first two are definitely on the list. Annually, Basanov is besieged with sportsmen endeavoring to show accuracy as well as satisfying a willing wife with a flock of geese or ducks. This year is no exception. However, many flocks are definitely reported moving south presently, although the weather has caused many to linger, especially in the Lathum District.

Basanov and district is also noted for the beautiful specimens of saddle-pointed red both south and north of here.

"Ball Four" and the Great Dunlop walk. Although only one of the potent legends of the Yankee powerhouse, the Reds certainly respect the game. The purpose of the trip was to spend the week-end at the Red Cross game on Wednesday night. They decided that Dickey's series in the 19th inning of the World Series really started the game.

MEMBER OF ROYAL AIR FORCE ENLISTED

POINT BORN IN ROYAL AIR FORCE

Honor Roll to be Completed; Soldiers to Receive Free Copies of the Recorder.

(The call for recruits has been well answered by the men of our community, who have desired to be loyal to the Dominion of Canada and the British Empire. In the enrollment of the Royal Air Force in England, the names of four Basanov boys, last over the twenty year mark, acting as cadets as Pilot Officers and Sergeants in the Observer Corps, these boys all enlisted within the course of the past two years.

Pilot Officer, Roy Gayford, was the first to leave, enter the service in the fall of 1937. Later, Bob Harper, an experienced pilot, and George Jones joined the bandy in the ranks of the Observer Corps. Since that time the list has been added to the rank of Sergeant in the Observer Corps, Jack Walsh, already experienced in aerobatics, joined the Basanov cadets in the summer of 1938. A former resident of Oat, (his Angel) is also connected with the R.C.A.F. in defining the predominance of the Air Force.

Leaving a position in the Royal Bank, Charles Huxar, local graduate of Basanov school, enlisted, to be immediately given the position of Assistant Paymaster of the Canadian Signaller Corps.

Two men, C. Lewis and J. Hamilton both of whom saw active service in the Royal Air Force in France during the war of 1914-1918, have again enlisted. Lewis, a craftsman in Diesel engineering, has been transferred to the Edmonton division of Field Engineers, while Hamilton is in the R.C.A.F. barracks at Calgary.

Two Gen boys, Jack Brown and Angus MacKay, have also volunteered to serve across the seas in the flight squad. Huxar, and are with the Army Service Corps in Calgary.

There are quite a few in the district that have passed medical examinations and are awaiting entrance. Many have been called upon to join, but still have to undergo medical examinations.

"To these men we salute and honor their courage for taking up our fight to end the enemy that now threatens our Motherland."

The Recorder will endeavor to keep readers informed on all enlistments from the district. To do this, it will be necessary for readers in outside points to forward the names of those who leave to the office. In the near future, an honor roll will be compiled, containing the names of all these men, and run in these columns as a regular feature. Enlisted men will also be supplied with free copies of the Recorder each week in appreciation of their services. Your assistance in this matter is most needed is of vital importance.

Local stores and places of business will observe the holiday by remaining closed on that day. Stores will, however, remain open on Wednesday afternoon, October 11th, instead of closing in accordance with a town by-law.

Duchess Men Fined in Court
When Walter Nixon and John Hanson of Duchess county to Basanov on Wednesday of this week they quashed their trials with a few drinks as many farmers do these warm days. After a time the proceeded to the Royal Cafe, in town, where they took on some more solid refreshments. Which was all perfectly in order; But when they commenced to use foul language in a loud voice in the restaurant, and tried to overturn tables the proprietor was obliged to call for the services of Town Constable L. Siminon, to remove them. Constable Siminon got them to leave the restaurant, and then showed them the ladies' office, and formally told them that they were under arrest. Nixon then, attacked the constable, and tried to hit him with a bottle. Siminon suffered, among other injuries, a broken bone in his right hand. Constable Siminon appeared in court and the two men were taken to the cells and locked up, while the constable secured surgical attention for his injured hand.

The story was told in Court when Nixon and Hanson were arraigned on a charge of causing a disturbance in a public place. Mr. Macleod of Basanov appeared in the defence of the accused, and after pleas of guilty were entered, the court sentenced them to a short term in the cells, in which he asked leniency. His clients he said, were not disorderly persons, and that they had also paid the influence of liquor, they did not realize sufficiently what they were doing. He said that had Constable Siminon been more lenient.

Autumn Here
Definite signs of autumn are to be seen in Basanov at the present time, as trees, blowing in the steady breeze, shed the foliage that has graced their branches during the summer months. Light frosts have added a touch to the scene, and the result is that Jack Frost will soon be palating pleasures upon our window panes, as the thermometer slides down to the zero mark, and citizens again dig into that bottom drawer for their "woolies."

School Publishes Own Newspaper
Completing the first step in a new enterprise, members of the Basanov High School published the premier issue of their new school paper, the Petty Record this week.

Edited and compiled solely by the students for study stimulus and extracurricular, the paper will form an interesting outlet for the journalistic talents of the students.

Although the first copy was the sole work of the staff, it is expected that the students will contribute greatly to the paper.

Advertising having been eliminated depending wholly on subscription the paper is expected to survive by the co-operation of students. Any person interested in this paper, and who would like to add a subscription, are advised to contact the editor, Hanson Broadfoot, who is also the circulation manager.

KORE PEOPLE
Ottawa—Canada's population on June 1, 1938, is estimated at 11,196,000, Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported recently. This gives an increase of 89,000 over the 1937 estimate. The report shows Alberta's population increased from 778,000 in 1937 to 783,000 in 1938. All four western provinces show increases.

Fire Prevention Week

IN CANADA and the United States the week of October 8th to 14th is being observed as Fire Prevention Week. The Dominion Fire Prevention Association in co-operation with Provincial Fire Marshals, local Fire Chiefs and others are working with civic organizations in the furtherance of the aims of Fire Prevention.

In times of peace it has been considered a patriotic duty to prevent fires in order to conserve our national resources. How much more so it is in times of war when it is essential, particularly as we are perhaps fighting for our very existence, that nothing be wasted? And fire is as devastating as war, and just as wasteful.

About 300 people are burned to death and a much larger number are injured by fire in Canada every year. The recorded loss of property by fire in Canada during the 15 years 1923 to 1938, exceeded $550,000,000. In other words, at our present burning rate, approximately one human life is sacrificed and $100,000 worth of property is destroyed every day in the year.

Fire is no respecter of persons. Every man has a responsibility towards his neighbors and that responsibility should cause every right-thinking person to pause and consider what he owes the community in which he lives. We owe it to ourselves but in a greater degree to our fellow-citizens to permit no condition to exist upon our premises that will invite a visitation of fire. A great majority of fires are so easy to prevent that it is certainly a moral crime to tolerate the things which bring them about.

Cities and towns, like individuals, reap what they sow. To permit the erection of fire-traps, to fail to provide an abundant and reliable water supply and means of using it or to fail to apply the everyday rules of fire prevention, is to constantly face a menace of heavy fires and sweeping conflagrations. We in Bassano are probably more fortunate than other towns of similar size in the province in having a good water system, and suitable fire fighting equipment, but we should not lose sight of the fact that many of our fires have been caused by failure to apply fire prevention rules.

Why tolerate a condition which not only levies tribute upon life and property but in effect imposes an added cost to the conduct of every feature of business activity and increases the burden of the people in providing the necessities of life.

We cannot afford to go on and be indifferent to it all. Fire Prevention Week is a particular week set aside to call attention to the menace of fire. And just as we must throw our whole strength against the forces which aim to destroy our liberty, so should we be prepared to battle that other ferrible demon — Fire. Are you doing your part?

Thanksgiving Day

THANKSGIVING Day, as we now know it is probably due to the precedent set by the Pilgrims at Plymouth after the occasion of their first harvest in the new land in the year 1621. This precedent was followed by the Massachusetts Bay Colony, the Dutch in New Netherlands, Congress and various Presidents in the United States until the time of President Lincoln. He named the fourth Thursday of November 1864, and since that time each President of the United States has followed this example.

In Canada Thanksgiving Day is celebrated as a matter of Statute, and is observed with religious services and as an occasion for family re-unions. At one time there was some opposition to the celebration of the holiday on the ground that it was a mere relic of Puritan bigotry, but that has long since died out.

This year, the Dominion Government, by proclamation has set aside Monday, October 9th, as a day of Thanksgiving. With war clouds hanging over the world, some feel that there is little to be thankful for, but these persons should not lose sight of the fact that they are living in, and forming a part of the British Empire, and are permitted to enjoy freedom and privileges denied to persons in many foreign races. All are well acquainted with living conditions in European countries, where dictators rule with an iron hand. This alone is worth our Thanksgiving. Then this year, the prairies are enjoying an abundant harvest in comparison with previous years, which merits our Thanksgiving. The holiday will probably afford an opportunity

Quebec and the War

A Provincial political campaign is being staged in the province of Quebec with the autonomy issue being raised in connection with the Federal government's war economic program. But there is also another type of Campaign in progress in that province, and it concerns re-crafting of French-Canadian volunteers for overseas service by French-Canadian officials. The Montreal Gazette reports a steady movement to enlist in French-Canadian regiments in that city. The Regiment de Maisonneuve, one of the most noted of Quebec military units, has already attained a full regimental complement of 839 men, with replacements extras for corps and division, and a waiting list. It was among the first in the Dominion to complete its strength in all ranks and is now carrying on training at full speed. Another French-Canadian regiment, the Pasill, is Mont-Royal has also completed its roster. With the exception of some technicians and a few vacancies in the ranks, all other military units in the Montreal district have completed their mobilization. Every officer commanding has reported a keenness on the part of young French-Canadians to sign on for war service.

This is a fact that should be noted in other provinces where there is a tendency to question the loyalty of Quebec because of the statements of some of its public men who have indicated a desire to keep the province neutral in this war—Calgary Herald.

New Tax Needs Revision

WHILE we are wholly in sympathy with the "Pay as You Enter" policy of the Dominion government in relation to the war, and we have no serious objection to the methods of taxation, the tax on electricity consumption discriminates against the resident in the more sparsely populated portions of the Dominion, forcing rural and small urban residents to bear a greater portion of this tax burden than the residents of larger centres. The tax calls for a straight 8 per cent, levy on the monthly bill. Thus, residents of Ramsey, for instance, being further away from the source of supply, pay a heavier tax than the Drumheller residents. Drumheller electrical consumers likewise pay a heavier tax on the amount of electrical energy consumed, than Winnipeg consumers. Winnipeg consumers pay more than residents of industrial Ontario, where basic rates are as low as one cent per k.w.h. In some isolated communities in the prairie provinces, light rates are as high as 13 cents per k.w.h.—Drumheller Plaindealer.

Patriotic Duty

ONE Can be patriotic without saying or believing silly things as some of our wisecrackers did during the other war. This one for instance is not a war to end war, but it is one to help save democracy. In the other one we were told we were doing a patriotic duty similar to the boys in the trenches if we bought Victory Bonds or raised stuff with which to feed the troops, while all the while the rewards for such investment or industry were sufficient incentive. There was no sacrifice involved, but only gain. There is more sacrifice, because there is more sacrifice in the observation made the other day by a man who regarded it as his patriotic duty not to cut down his drinks or smokes because of the increased duties on liquors and tobacco. The Poet's Corner

IF WE BUT KNEW

If we knew the cares and crosses
Crowding round our neighbor's way;
If we knew the little losses,
Sorely grievous day by day,
Would we then so often chide him
For the lack of thrift and gain—
Casting o'er his life a shadow
Leaving on his heart a stain?

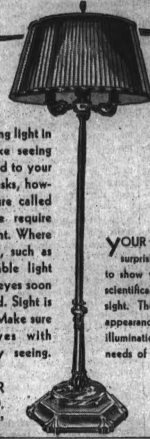

If we knew the silent story
Quivering through the heart of pain,
Would our womanhood dare doom them
Back to haunts of guilt again?
Life hath many a tangled crossing,
Joy hath many a break of woe,
And the cheeks tear-washed seem whiter,
This the blessed angels know.

Let us reach into our bosoms
For the key to other lives,
And with love to cringe nature,
Cherish good that still survives;
So that when our disro'd spirits
Soar to realms of light again,
We may say, dear Father, judge us
As we judged our fellow men.

LIGHT UP!
...For Easy Seeing!

THE main reason for using light in your home is to make seeing easier. You use it as an aid to your eyes. There are various tasks, however, which your eyes are called upon to perform. These require different intensities of light. Where there is much fine work, such as reading or sewing, suitable light must be provided or the eyes soon become tired and strained. Sight is priceless, light is cheap. Make sure you provide your eyes with sufficient light for easy seeing.

Man: "No. I want to see if my neck looks."

"Don't let that worry you," said the teacher. "I've got to stay here till I'm 65."

Firemen's to Sponsor Dance October 20th

6-Piece Medicine Hat Orchestra to Entertain on Friday Evening, Oct-ber 20th.

Chapman's 6-Piece Medicine Hat Orchestra will entertain dancers here on Friday evening, October 20th, according to an announcement made by the local Fire Brigade this week.

The occasion will be the staging of the Firemen's Dance, in Aid of local Red Cross Activity. Customarily, the Firemen have always stage their annual dance at about this time of the year, but due to the existing world situation, and to the formation of a branch of the Red Cross Society, the boys felt that their annual affair could be held off for a while, and a benefit dance sponsored in its place. Accordingly, all proceeds from this dance will be promptly turned over to the local Red Cross Society, to assist in filling their coffers, and becoming established as an active organization. The boys do not ask thanks for what they are endeavoring to accomplish, they simply make an earnest request that every person in the district make an effort to attend the dance, or at least buy a ticket from one of the many sellers. By doing this, the boys will feel that their efforts have been doubly repaid. Won't you be one of the persons who can say you did your bit?

FIXED IN COURT

Stimons' been more experienced in his duties he would have used his physical powers, in settling the matter. People were inclined to think that it was quite alright to act up in a Chinese restaurant, whereas they would not think of such a thing in a place conducted by an Occidental. He suggested that his clients should be let off with the minimum penalty enforced by a severe lecture by the Court. His clients, he told the Court, would take care of any expense in which the Constable was put by reason of their attack on him. The Magistrate told Mr. McLane that the maximum fine of $50.00 and costs was possibly too heavy, but that in his opinion, the minimum fine of one dollar and costs was not severe enough in view of the gravity of the offence, and imposed a sentence of $10.00 and costs in each case, which was paid.
